	Biological Excursion Tour at Kuwara Bhivsen and Ghoghra Mahadev.	Kuwara Bhivsen is a Gond village on the bank of Pench river surrounded by forests. A Gond temple at the hilltop is one of the main attractions. The place is a beautiful picnic spot. The drive through the forest adds to the charm. Kunwara bhivsen is a small village in the Ramtek tahsil, 28.969 km. (18 miles) north of Nagpur on the bank of the river Pench. A hill by the village contains the remains of an old fort, its summit being encircled with walls made of ponderous masses of rock. Our One day biological excursion tour has been planned on 27 October 2023. Altogether there were 40 students and 05 teaching staff members and one botany attendant (Mr. Ritesh Dahare) were present. By Bus we have our journey from college, in meanwhile we provide breakfast to the students and teachers. Firstly we had been to KUWARA BHIVSEN which was 62 kms. From our college, it takes nearly one and half hours to reach there .all the students they enjoyed nature at location, as well as they had located many native birds, medicinal plants and indigenous plants, after that all the students they climbed up and there was very old Shiv mandir located at high altitude the path was very dangerous and it takes nearly one hour to reach at the top after one hour students came down and they were very tired, exhausted and very thirsty and hungry also. Then all the students they had their lunch near temple of kuwara bhivsen. After that we proceed towards next destination i.e. Ghoghra Mahadev which was nearly 21.3 kms away from the place near Pench river. It takes nearly 45mint.to reach at that place. The Natural beauty and marvellous landscapes never fail to amaze us. And just when we think that we have visited every single spot there is to see, we stumble upon a new and even more breath-taking location waiting to be explored. This place is so amazing that all the students they enjoyed a lot more in this place specially they enjoyed in the river water for about 2-3 hours, and then we move towards our last destination at Nagpur, while returning we had also visited Koradi temple and then return to our college as many students they had call their parents. We reach at 7.30.pm. At our college.

Survey records 129 butterfly species in Pench

■ First ever in PTR discovers 49 new species

■ Nantok Correspondent

THESE are total 129 species of butterfly from 5 families, of which 49 are new, in the Pench Tiger Reserve (PTR), after ever survey conducted from March 10 to 12 has revealed. The survey was conducted by PTR management in collaboration with Tansa Ecological Foundation.

Important species such as Blue Mormon, Conjoined Swift, Common Nymphalid, Brown King Crow, Psych, Tinked Palm Fly, Crimson Rose, Common Treebrown, Grass Demion, and Common Lascar were recorded during this survey.

Many dragon flies and damselflies were recorded at Pench river bed in Kothimara. Along with this, many spider species were also recorded near the camp area in East Pench.

There were a total of 106 participants from 11 states in the survey. The participants, 60 men and 45 women, were in the age group of 18-67 years.

Interestingly, around half of the participants were faculty and college students of various

Obasidas University, Bilaspur, Chhattisgarh, Kora University, Rajasthan, and Rashtrasant Tukdoji Maharaj Nagpur University, Maharashtra.

The survey was aimed at establishing base line data for the study of butterflies. Carrying out such surveys in different seasons will help deduce the dynamics of population and species across the annual cycle.

The participants were made into 65 camps, and 42 camps were selected for the survey, using proportional random sampling method across seven ranges of PTR. Each camp was taken as a census, and those sampling trails covering a pair best areas were selected for the survey. PTR uses the same method for Carnivore survey during All India Tiger Estimation (AITE), the method was also used for the first Bird Survey in January 2023.

Participants were grouped in a team of 2-3 for each camp with minimum one expert butterfly observer and 2 amateurs. Each team covered a minimum of 3 survey trails (samples) or a maximum of 4, depending upon travel time from 50m to three respective camps.

Participants used Pollard's Walk Method, a type of modified line transect method where an observer imagines a cube of six and records butterfly observations.

The data was collected on KoboCollect, a free data collection tool set developed by Harvard Humanitarian Initiatives.

The inauguration of the survey was held at Amalgaon Tourism Complex on March 10 with formal registration, distribution of kits, briefing on PTR by IFO Mangesh Toke.

WWF India and Honorary Wildlife Warden Ajinkya Shukar briefed participants about the role of such citizen science surveys in the process of conservation. Dr P N Shukla, Deputy Director, PTR has words of appreciation and encouragement for the participants, followed by Anil Deskar, ACE PTR, and Dr Ashish Tiple, an Entomologist working in Central India.

Rajeev Singh, Deputy Director, Pech TR, Madhya Pradesh, and Dr. Yash Bhatt, DCE, Malghat Tiger Reserve were present as chief guests of the event. Dr Anil Kumar, Founder, Tansa shared the complete result on butterfly diversity. All the participants were given certificates. Using the field data, Tansa will prepare a technical report, which will be used for conservation intervention by PTR and follow up seasonal surveys.

What is Ecosystem Restoration?

- Restoring nature and reversing the damage — to get from existing nature to better it
- Process of recovering degraded, damaged or destroyed ecosystems (SER, 2024)
- To bring back original diversity of function, structure, potential, similar and process of ecosystem (ER, 2024)
- Distinguished from conservation, which concerned with preventing further damage to ecosystems (Parker et al., 2024)

Ecosystem restoration focuses on reversing the damage human activities have caused to natural ecosystems and seeks to return them to an earlier state or to another state that is closely related to one unaltered by human activities.

REPORT ON BIRD WATCHING

BIRD WATCHING PROGRAM AT GOREWADA LAKE (Batch-1)

AIMS AND OBJECTIVES: - 1. To encourage, organize and promote the study of birds and their habitat used particularly within the Gorewada Lake.

1. Support the wider knowledge and enjoyment of birds generally.
2. Promote the recording and wide circulation of the results of bird studies and observations.
3. Promote the archiving of observations, studies and records of birds particularly in the Gorewada region.
4. Carry out many other activities which is capable of being conveniently carried out in connection with the above objects, or which directly or indirectly advances those objects or any of them.

REPORT:-

Bird watching, or birding, is a form of wildlife observation in which the observation of birds is a recreational activity or citizen science. It can be done with the naked eye, through a visual enhancement device like binoculars and telescopes, by listening for bird sounds, or by watching public webcams.

Bird watching often involves a significant auditory component, as many bird species are more easily detected and identified by ear than by eye. Most birdwatchers pursue this activity for recreational or social reasons, unlike ornithologists, who engage in the study of birds using formal scientific methods.

Due to their accessibility and ubiquity, birds are a useful tool for environmental education and awareness on environmental issues. Birds easily transmit values on respect to nature and the fragility of ecosystem.

We have chosen Gorewada Lake for Birding this year .So around 21 students (Batch-1) from Environmental studies were participated in this event on 13th January 2019. Like wise we have planned to visit this place for further more batches because around 105 students were registered for birding .Along with Dr. Bahar Bawiskar, Director Wild CER, Nagpur, Miss Rutuja Kukde and faculty from the college Dr. Manisha Bhaskulkar .Head Department of Zoology, and Convener of EVS and Dr. Chetna Laddha Dept of Botany.

BIRD WATCHING PROGRAM AT GOREWADA LAKE (Batch-2)

AIMS AND OBJECTIVES: - 1. To encourage, organize and promote the study of birds and their habitat used particularly within the Gorewada Lake.

1. Support the wider knowledge and enjoyment of birds generally.
2. Promote the recording and wide circulation of the results of bird studies and observations.
3. Promote the archiving of observations, studies and records of birds particularly in the Gorewada region.
4. Carry out many other activities which is capable of being conveniently carried out in connection with the above objects, or which directly or indirectly advances those objects or any of them.

REPORT:-

Bird watching, or birding, is a form of wildlife observation in which the observation of birds is a recreational activity or citizen science. It can be done with the naked eye, through a visual enhancement device like binoculars and telescopes, by listening for bird sounds, or by watching public webcams.

Bird watching often involves a significant auditory component, as many bird species are more easily detected and identified by ear than by eye. Most birdwatchers pursue this activity for recreational or social reasons, unlike ornithologists, who engage in the study of birds using formal scientific methods.

Due to their accessibility and ubiquity, birds are a useful tool for environmental education and awareness on environmental issues. Birds easily transmit values on respect to nature and the fragility of ecosystem.
